I saw a football coach today, a sad and woeful guy, a worried furrow on his brow, despair was in his eye. "Ah me." he cried, "the team is shot, we have no backs or line, we'll lose each game by forty points or maybe forty nine. The stars of yesteryear are gone, to shine on other teams, and shut-out games we used to play are now but airy dreams." I did not join in his woe, for that's a coach's way, I'll wait until the season starts, it's 70 today.

QUESTIONS OVER KAESONG

More than two months ago General Ridgway, who took up where MacArthur left off in Korea, broadcast over the radio an offer to discuss a ceasefire with the Communists.

This was followed by many meetings of officers of both sides.

But a stronger possibility seems to be that the Communists never meant to make a deal. It is possible, too, they wanted an agreement at one time but have since changed their minds. It seems plausible that they were inspired to lead Washington into the morass of fruitless negotiation by the ousting of General MacArthur.

HAPPENS THERE, TOO

The "uncultured" United States, as the Marxists would put it, is often held up to scorn in Europe because of the supposed absence here of law and order. It must be admitted that American gangster movies have done nothing to reserve this impression.

That is why, 215 years later, Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, director of the mint, urges that pennies come out of hiding and be put promptly into circulation. She says:

"If each of the estimated 38,700,000 American families should release from hiding and return to business 10 one-cent pieces, over 1,200 tons of scarce copper would be saved."

That, Mrs. Ross asserted, would save the mint five months of over-production. She did not explain why so many bennies have gone into hiding. One of the most current expennies have gone into hiding. He Started Something (By HOLMES ALEXANDER) WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 6-You wouldn't call Mr. Truman a literary man exactly, but there's no denying that he's a man of letters. He's the one, as nobody will ever forget, who brought the stark letters S. O. B. from the privacy of the men's locker room into the public prints. He used those initials to identify a popular but anti-Truman columnist whose parents had christened him something else entirely.

to the pristine eminence it once enjoyed in the days of St. Paul and Lord Chesterfield. The Truman epistle on the U. S. Marine Corps ("propaganda . . . equal to Stalin's") would stand as a classic if it hadn't been topped by his missive to a Washington music cricic who didn't like Miss Marrayet's usion. didn't like Miss Margaret's voice. New Literary Genre All this is by way of a prelude to announcing that Mr. Truman has recently founded a new literary genre-the youdunit. Reference here is to his August 23rd message to Congress in which he blamed that body for ruining his program of economic controls. Perhaps not many civilians bothered to read it, but many Senators did, and it deserves some critical attention as a literary form. It is probably one of the peppiest economic documents in print, and it won't offend any reader who objects to dull facts. There's hardly a fact in it. What makes the message readable, if not memorable, is the string What makes the message readable, it not include the new of verbal firecrackers it contains. Congress, it says, filled the new Defense Production Act with "economic booby-traps." Certain GOP lawmakers are "commissioners of inflation." They even planted some fiscal bombs with "delayed action fuses" inside the national economy.

Also, Mr. Truman's the one who restored the art of letter writing Suspects Inflation Issue Being a man of foresight, Mr. Truman suspects that inflation is going to be a big issue in the 52 elections. He's for getting his licks in now. Next year the befuddled and price-jaded electorate will be staring skyward at the cost of living and demanding: "who dunit?" Mr. Truman has already started pointing at Congress and crying: "You-

Well, the President is something of a style-setter in such matters and it's not surprising that he's already got a coterie. When the Senate and it's not surprising that he's already got a coterie. When the Senate Banking and Currency Committee resumes its hearings on September 10th, Mr. Truman will find that he's established a whole new school of expression. There will sit Senators Capehart, Dirksen and Bricker, pointing toward the White House and ejaculating, "Youdunit." While at the other end of the committee table will be Senators Douglas, Moody and Benton, wagging their fingers toward the GOP literati and intoning, "Nope, youdunit." intoning, "Nope, youdunit.

Fad May Carry Over To Senate

Probably the fad will carry over into the Senate chamber where eight dozen statesmen can join in the fun. And there's no doubt at all that political orators in '52 will be ringing the welkin from coast to coast with the same phonetics. At least one election season prediction is foolproof: "Youdunits have come to stay!"

Beyond that, however, no prophet who remembers '48 can safely ge. Will Mr. Truman get the blame for inflation? Or will he be able to pass it along to the luckless heirs of the 80th Congress? Who can say? But the facts are, if anyone cares, that Mr. Truman's program for economic control is runinng downhill like a ten-ton truck on the loose. There was a time when he could have applied the brakes on prices—June 25, 1950, the day we entered the Korean War. A number of persons so advised him then, but the President's attention was hard to engage. Senator Capehart has compiled the do-nothing timetable which shows how the President dallied while the cost of living rose. In September '50, just a year ago, Congress handed him a fully-equipped law to control prices and wages. But not until January '51 did the President declare an emergency and a generalized price-wage freeze.

Why the delay? Senator Maybank, a Democrat and chairman of the Banking and Currency Comimttee, thinks he knows. Maybank says: "The administration . . . apparently wished prices to rise (last autumn) so that increased taxes could be collected . . That was one of the reasons. The other was that there was an election pending.

We all know what's hapepned during the past twelve month. Inflation, through delays and escalation wage-bikes, has got off to a rolling Whodunit? Maybe the public can play that game too. Mr. Presi-(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Progress Described

Progress in the fight against tuberculosis was described at another session of Wednesday's meeting by Dr. Maurice Stacey of the University of Egbastion, Birmingham, England.

Dr. Stacey, speaking to the division of medicinal chemistry, detailed research on the disease's cell components which he said eventually must lead nearer to a cure for, and prevention of, tuberculosis.

Perhaps the most striking thing about the micro-organism, the British scientist declared, is its remarkably high content of complex fet and a property for the content of complex fet and plex fats and waxes. British experiments produced fatty acids of the micro-organism, he continued, which gives "considerable hope that other of the biologically important components of the cells will be made synthetically."

Pesticide Production Tops Government Goal

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 .- (INS) -An agricultural chemicals industry spokesman today reported that 1951 pesticide production topped most government goals and established a new record for the industry. Production totaled more

The Agriculture department proposed today that California growers hold back 25 per cent of

Dentist Forms Unique Club

Heart Disease Victims Eligible As Members

NANTUCKET, Mass., Sept. 6. (INS)-A retired dentist has formed a unique club for heart disease victims on the theory that "misery loves company, if the company can laugh at the misery".

Dr. Oliver D. "Otlie" Westcott, a football and baseball star at Tufts college in 1917, named his new organization the Cardiac club. The doc, who is as breezy as the sland of Nantucket itself, lists only two requirements for mem bership. One must have spent some time in an oxygen tent, and must have a sense of humor

The official membership insig-nia is a "bleeding blood" shell, a native of Florida. It is brown in color and shaped like a heart. The doctor affixes a diamond chip on each to represent the "last ray of hope"

No Dues As Yet
There are no dues—net yet, anyay. There may be an initiation fee if the club keeps on growing at its present rate.

One charter member has two diamonds. The club decided he needed it after he consumed his needed it after he consumed his 71st tank of oxygen.

The club was more or less of a closed affair during its first two months. Then the news reached the mainland. It was apparent from the mail that a goodly number of people would like the chance to laugh off their troubles.

Mrs. Dorothy Wescutt the documents. Mrs. Dorothy Wescott, the doc-tor's wife, who "inherited" the job of answering the mail, said today: "Two heart specialists wrote letters which arrived in the first batch of letters. Both approved Correspondence Club?

"A Mrs. C. J. Leary, 71, of Springfield, who has been in bed for five years, wanted to know if we would consider setting up a correspondence club, for those in her condition.

her condition.

"A Congregational minister said he was for spreading the club to the mainland. And so did an agent for the Boston & Maine railroad, who said he wanted the pin so he could get out of doing overtime work.

"A Catholic priest on the island, a Father Fitzgerald, belongs. He wears his pin when he celebrates mass."

Dr. Westcott is considering an initiation fee so that a heart fund can be raised and given to the American heart fund.

The informal meetings of the dozen or so island members usually includes a good deal of kidding. Only entertainment is watching softball games. The members are driven to the games by Dr. Wescott, who is the only one who operates an automobile.

Getting Rich Collectively

UNITED NATIONS, New York, Sept. 6.—(INS)—Yes, Virginia, there are rich newspaper reportters. I have known one or two in my time and there must be others hanging around somewhere.

"We are even contours lating." hanging around somewhere.

But, by and large, after we have paid the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker, we do not have to ponder overlong on whether to buy government bonds or a ticket to the neighborhood movie.

So it is real gratifying to learn of a group of reporters who are rolling in the stuff and worried about what to do if more of the folding variety is forced on them. This is the predicament of the United Nations Press Association, composed of some 130 newspaper men and women from all over the world who report on UN matters for the papers back home in doz-ens of languages and countries.

Get Rich Collectively

They are getting rich collect-ely, rather than individually, thanks to a weekly radio program "United or Not" in which they star together with UN diplomats and bigwigs.
"United or Not," dealing strictly with UN matters, uses a familiar format. Three or four top-flight reporters assigned to the UN beat chosen each week to interro-e a leading UN figure such as the United States' chief delegate, former Sen. Warren Austin, the U.S.S.R.'s Jacob Malik, New Zealand's Sir Carl Berendsen or the United Kingdom's Sir Gladwyn

The program, which started on radio a year ago and moved over to television in June, quickly climbed to ten million lookersand-listeners, as a sustaining program on ABC. But since the show is a sustainer and not yet sponsored, ABC has paid only $250 a week for it. Goes To Association

Nonetheless, this $250 pouring into the exchequer of the UN Press Association has made it, in the firm belief of its members, the most solvent press club in the world. No individuals are paid for taking part in the show; the whole sum goes to the association.

whole sum goes to the association.

When the money first began to roll into the kitty, the membership was a bit non-pulsed over what to do with so much cash. But it "Perish forbid!" Piously said another member, "or we shall all be forced to wear diamonds, drive Cadillacs and drink champagne."

are even contemplating free wigs and upper plates for such members as may feel in need of these appendages," a member said the other day. "And free cheaters are just around the cor-

Nothing is so embarrassing to a true reporter as a lot of loose lettuce in his pocket, and the as-sociation reflects this attitude. It made members nervous to see the money pile up, with the result that the association gave $600 for pur-chase of wheat to ease the famine in India and a similar amount to the International Emergency Fund for children

Opening Up Library

It is also opening up its own library, to be known as the Nat Barrows Memorial Library.
The library is named for the late reporter of the Chicago Daily News who was killed in a plane accident while on assignment in accident while the Far East.

In a further effort to share the wealth, the association now gives a fancy luncheon in honor of a United Nations big shot once a month.

Eight weeks ago, the association bought itself a large refrigerator, which it installed in one of two small rooms it pried out of the UN as its temporary headquarters.

Stocked Daily

The refrigerator is stocked daily The refrigerator is stocked daily daily with a variety of sandwiches and soft drinks. Members help themselves and drop the fixed price for such refreshments into a cardbox. So far the honor system has worked just dandy. However, at night a heavy dog chain is slipped around the refrigerator and firmly padlocked.

and firmly padlocked.

"We trust each other," a member said. "It is merely the delegates of whom we are suspicious."

At the moment, the association's only worry is that its radio program will be bought by a rich sponsor who may force one, two, three or four thousand dollars a

Sees Solution Of World Problems In Next 50 Years

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—(INS)— Dr. James B. Conant, president of Harvard university, prophesied Wednesday that the next 50 years will bring a gradual, peaceful solution of world problems, and not the feared "atomic holocaust" of Dr. Conant addressed the diamond jubilee meeting of the American Chemical society as a "skeptical chemist" looking into a crystal ball for a glimpse of the future.

In gazing into his "plastic crystal ball", the noted scientist questioned some of the prophesies of atomic physicists whom he described as "modern alchemists".

Dr. Conant said:

"I see in this instrument of prophesy neither an atomic holocaust nor the golden abundance of an atomic age.

"On the contrary, I see worried humanity endeavoring by one political device after another to find a way out of the atemic age. And by the end of the century this appears to have been accomplished, but neither through the triumph of totalitarianism nor by the ad-

Church Spire Going Up

Workmen are rapidly erecting the tower and spire of the Central Presbyterian church located on the Wilmington road, near Hazelcroft avenue. The height from the roof to the top of the spire will be 48 feet when completed. The structure will make an impressive sight as it towers to a total height of 90 feet. Above the masonry, the tower will be of wood construction painted white. The spire will be aluminum covered with an aluminum weather vane. In the masonry section above the second floor level is a room in which chimes or carillons may be installed at some future date. The building was designed by W. G. Eckles company of New Castle.

New frontiers for northeast

The survey also shows that high er rates of nitrogen—40 pounds per acre—would boost present yields of small grains by about one-third. And the same rate would benefit other crops. What if fertilizer supplies become short? The researchers say some reduc-tion in superphosphate use can be made with only moderate yield loss if the reductions are made on soils and crops that have received heavy applications over a period of years. Potatoes, other vegetables and tobacco are example Two similar reports of fertili-

"THEY WERE OF ONE HEART AND SOUL . . . AND HAD HAD ALL THINGS IN COMMON."

Scripture-Matthew 18:15-20 Acts 4:31-37-Philippians 1:27-2:11;

Hereby know we love, because He laid down His life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren."-I John 3:16.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

This is the story of what Jesus said about conduct of life in the church; and of how the members lived after the church was founded. It also tells us of Paul and John's

The words of Jesus were uttered near Capernaum when the apostles had been disputing among themselves as to whom should be the greater in the kingdom of heaven.
Jesus rebuked them, you remember, by putting a little child in their midst and saying that unless they could become as the little child in spirit, they could not even enter into that kingdom; and also that he who would be greatest should be willing to be the servant

Jesus only used the word church" twice during His min-stry. St. Matthew tells us that He aid: "If thy brother shall trespass gainst thee, go and tell him his ault between thee and him alone; hear thee, thou hast gained

If the brother would not admit his fault, the member was to take two or more friends and try to get brother to make amends. that failed, the matter should be taken to the church. Failing to get an admission of guilt and atonement, the brother was then to be cast out from the brotherhood. In recent lessons we have been given the story of the community living of the early church members, mostly Jews in Jerusalem. St. Luke tells us that "the multitude

"Only let your conversation be as it becometh the gospel of Christ; that, whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may hear of your affairs, that ye stand fast in one spirit with one mind, striving together for the faith of the gospe "And in nothing terrified by your adversaries which is to them an evident token of perdition, but to you of salvation, and that of God. For unto you it is given in behalf of Christ not only to believe on Him, but also to suffer for His Again: "Fulfil ye my joy, that ye be like-minded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind. Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves.

"Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others.

"Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus; who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God, but made Himself of no reputation, and took upon Himself the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men;

"And being found in fashion as a man, He humbled Himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross.
"Wherefore, God also hath highly exhalted Him, and given Him a name above every name."

Surely disputes that rend

churches, causing much bitterness and hatreds, would disappear if this advice was followed and differences were discussed in this spirit

So it could be between nations if all would meet at the council tables in that same humble, loving spirit, instead of being on the point of flying at one another's throats, and hurling libelous charges at one another.

All nations, like all people, have faults. We, in our free country, do not always act in the spirit of the Master, forgetting that He, who had no sin, was humble in spirit and said He came to minister unto the world; not to be ministered unto. St. John wrote: "We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not his brother abideth in death.

"Whosover hateth his brother is a murderer, and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 .- (INS -The Senate finance committee on Wednesday adopted the Houseapproved gambling tax which is estimated to raise 400 million dollars in new revenue from book making, numbers and lotteries.

The action brings the total of the Senate tax increase bill to six billion 190 million dollars—still one billion dollars under the 7.2 billion dollar House measure.

The senators approved the gambling levy over the objections of an internal revenue official who appeared before the group in closed session and argued that the tax would be difficult to enforce administratively

Reductions Made
The committee also added scrap chewing tobacco and snuff to the list of tobaccos granted a reduc-tion in tax of from 18 to 10 cents a pound. This would lose a total of about 5 million dollars. The Senate adopted the House gambling provision without change. It imposes a ten percent tax on most wagers other than pari-mutuel bets and a $50 annual tax on those who accept such bets. other than pari-mutuel.

As did the House amendment.

the Senate provision excludes casino type gambling—such as poker, blackjack, crap-shooting and other games of chance where it was argued it is difficult to tell who would be taxable and on what

Under the provision, the book maker who takes horse bets and the policy writer who writes "numbers" or sells lottery tickets would be taxed.

Auto Makers Will Be Permitted To Increase Prices

-The government Wednesday an- for press gallery membership benounced that auto makers will be permitted to hike their prices from six to eight per cent, and is-sued orders reducing the supply of washing machines, refrigerators and other household goods.

Price Administrator DiSalle

forecast the higher prices for car buyers under a new price ceiling formula for the automotive industry which may be issued before nightfall.

National Production Administra tor Manly Fleischmann announced the cutback in allocations of steel, copper and aluminum for non-defense manufacturers which will mean a decrease in durable consumer goods in the last three months of this year.

Disalle told newsmen that the price increases on cars will be pasesd on to the customers and warned that the addition of percentage profit margins by car dealers will drive the cost of a new auto still higher.

Auto manufacturers had asked DiSalle's Office of Price Stabiliza tion for an increase of from nine o 10 per cent.

DiSalle said he could not estimate increases for various mod-els and makes of cars, but it was understood the smallest increases will be on low-priced cars, while the greatest hikes will be imposed on more expensive models.

New Castle high school's inexperienced and untested 1951 Red Hurricane football team will open its season Friday night at Taggart stadium with another team of unknown quality—Erie Academy. Best known of the Erie contingent is fleet footed Willie Baker, who has a reputation of being one of the fastest backs in the Erie ty schools. Coach Jim Hyde expects a lot

Leahy Declares Notre Dame Through As Football Power

By PATRICK JOYCE

(I.N. S. Sports Writer)

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 5.—
Coach Frank Leahy, the man who is "Mr. Football" in many fans' minds, today sang what was virtually a swan song for predominantly bigtime football at Notre Dame.

Leahy, whose previously unbeaten Irish squad sagged to an indifferent four won, four lost and one tied record last season, sees little to cheer him in Notre Dame 1951 prospects.

"Notre Dame may never be a football power again.

"Why? Because the boys who used to come to Notre Dame now are going to other schools or are entering the armed services.

"Many are registering at military schools where they will receive specialized training which will help them if they are called into service in the event of war."

Denies Strong Frosh
Leahy was reminded that the Irish were reputed to have had an exceptionally strong freshman team last year and that these boys now are sophomores and will be out for varsity posts.

The Irish coach retorted:

"Much of the talk about our 'powerful' freshman squad developed after they pushed around our varsity in practice.

"But who didn't look good against our varsity last year?

"We didn't have a great freshman team at all—I would call it about the same type as usual."

Gloom Quite Deep
Leahy's gloom deepened as he discussed losses his varsity suffered through graduation. He said:

Sugar Robinson Strictly On Spot

Must Win From Turpin Wednesday

By BILL CORUM (I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Ray Robinson hopes that nothing will happen to Randy Turpin except Ray Robinson. The former welter and middleweight champion must hope that. He's never had a better friend than Turpin.

The fellow in the song, who found a million-dollar baby in a five and ten-cent store, had nothing on Ray when he first sighted Randy in Piccadilly, or Wherever it

If the once incomparable Sugar wins next Wednesday, he will be almost duty bound to return to London to give Turpin a rubbermatch shot at the championship
